

Third Quarterly Meet Chamber of Commerce

The Third Big Quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery County will be held at the Tabb Theatre on Tuesday evening, June 28th, at 8 o'clock.

This meeting will be entirely different from any meeting yet held, and it promises to be the best one—and that will be going some! A good, substantial luncheon, not just a monthful—A buffet luncheon will be served. A three-reel side-splitting comedy picture will be shown, several stunts will be pulled, some very important announcements will be made and above all, you will be made to have a dandy good time.

Yes, this will be Ladies' Night—every member is expected to bring a lady (if his wife won't come, he is to bring somebody else's). Then each member is requested to bring a prospective new member and lady—either an out-of-town couple or a local non-member and lady.

A special rate of membership is made to clerks in stores where the firm is a member, the clerks are allowed to come in on a half individual price, or $6.25 per year. In view of this low rate clerks will not be allowed at this meeting unless invited by a member of the Chamber of Commerce as prospective members. A firm cannot send a clerk to represent them.

Everything is being arranged for your comfort, so that you will have the most pleasant evening of the year—36 large electric fans will keep cool breezes stirring all through the house. We have arranged a smoking room for those who are to indulge in their favorite blend of cigarettes and cigars. And when you get thirsty the soda fountain will be at your disposal with efficient dispensers to serve you anything you should desire (kick left out).

The first thing on the program will be the buffet luncheon, which will be served on the stage, after which the members and guests will take seats in the theatre to be entertained for the balance of the evening. We cannot tell you about the stunts—if you attended the last meeting you will know that we will have plenty of good, peppy stunts to keep you laughing.

Musical! Sure! We will have a four-piece orchestra play the latest and best music. The singing will be in charge of Messrs. Senff, Keller and Hazelrigg and it is needless to say that the singing will be of the same high standard as the last big quarterly meeting.

This will not be a business meeting but a few moments will be snatched from the merry-making to give a few very important announcements for the coming year. This is the last quarterly meeting of the fiscal year and the last opportunity to make these very important announcements.

To the members of the Chamber of Commerce: Make your plans now, to attend this meeting; if you have not mailed your card—do it right NOW, do not put it off. Make this

Wiedemann's Here For Sunday Game

The strong Wiedemann baseball team of Newport, will be the attraction here Sunday. This team is known to be one of the strongest clubs in the State and as the local team will be materially strengthened for this contest a battle royal is expected. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock and Vandalingham and Thoss will be the battery for Mt. Sterling.

A Correction

In our issue of Tuesday we stated that the State Highway Department had accepted a loan from Montgomery county of $35,000 to be used in reconstructing the Winchester pike, when, as a matter of fact the State has, in connection with the Federal government, agreed to build this thoroughfare provided Montgomery county would donate $35,000 and has agreed to accept this amount of money to be used for this purpose.

The above mistake was caused by a Frankfort correspondent sending out the information as originally published in Tuesday's Advocate.

Resigns From the War Department

Harry W. Mills, formerly of this city, who has been working in the office of the Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C., has resigned from the government service and accepted a position with the Western Newspaper Union, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. Mills worked for this office for five years, but for sometime has been employed as correspondent in the Officers' Branch of the War Department.

Harry Mills is one of the most deserving and energetic young men it has ever been our pleasure to know and we join his host of friends here in hoping he may continue to mount the ladder of success.

the best meeting of the year. Also, invite a prospective member and wife.

To the non-members—A Red Hot Tip: Go to one of your friends who is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and ask him what he thinks of the Chamber of Commerce, act very much interested and the chances are 16 to 1 that he will invite you to attend this, the best and biggest meeting of the year. You will have to act quick, as the time is growing close and all reservations must be made by Saturday, June 25th, Noon.

The "stunt loving members" will be glad to know that arrangements have been made for the presentation of the Wm. Tell & Son stunt, with the original bow, arrow and apple. Also for Dempsey-Carpentier, fistie contest, that will prove both interesting and educational. You cannot afford to miss these two stunts. Come early.

"STICK-TO-IT" CANDIDATES WILL HAVE BIG SHARE IN GREAT PRIZE CAMPAIGN

Don't Give Up—Stick to the Finish and be a Winner at All Hazards—Go After the Subscriptions With a Vim and a Determination to Win

Persistence and foresight are two important factors that have a great deal to do with winning the big prizes in a campaign of this kind.

Persistence is valuable from the beginning to the end of the race. Many candidates start with a boom and then lose the race to those who start more quietly, but make up in stick-to-it-iveness what they lack in speed.

Foresight can, in the nature of things, be valuable at any stage of the race up to the last few days. Foresight in this particular campaign consists in seeing the splendid chance offered and in taking advantage of every vote offer and opportunity to secure the most votes. Those who have the foresight to see and grasp these opportunities will reap a rich reward for their spare time efforts.

Just now all contestants should use foresight and gather in a harvest of votes during the big 200,000 vote offer which closes July 14th. Subscriptions and renewals now bring a great many more votes than they will later on in the campaign, and every candidate should do her utmost to take full advantage of it. Read the offer below:

200,000 Extra Votes will be given FREE on each and every "Club of $15" worth of "NEW" subscriptions turned in for or by a candidate on or before 6 P. M., July 14th.

In addition to the above offer, twenty prize ballots will be awarded to the twenty candidates who turn in the greatest amount of both OLD and NEW subscriptions on or before July 14th.

.... Increase Your Subscriptions

Contestants who have already secured a subscription and can get the subscriber to increase his subscription for one or more years longer, will be given the difference in votes. To illustrate more fully, note the following example:

Suppose you had secured a one-year new subscription on which you had received 10,800 votes. You now get the subscriber to increase his subscription to two years by paying $1.50 more. This would be the same as a two-year subscription, on which 26,400 votes are given. Hence, we would give the contestant the difference between 26,400 votes and 10,800 votes (which she had already received), or 15,600 votes on the second payment.

Old subscriptions and those of longer term in the same proportion. The difference in votes is given only when the same candidate secured both payments. In the case of the increased subscriptions, mark the subscription receipt slip "NEW-Extended" or "OLD-Extended," as the case may be, so that we will not send the subscriber two papers.

One source of securing votes which practically every candidate

Epworth League Conference in Session

The twelfth annual assembly of the Kentucky Conference Epworth League opened Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Methodist church. After a short song service Mr. J. A. Bricken, vice president of the Conference, read the scripture lesson. Rev. J. E. Savage, president of the Epworth League Board, led in prayer. The conference then enjoyed a most beautiful solo by Mrs. Paul Strother.

After the welcome address given by Miss Mary Helen Clark, president-host of the Mt. Sterling Chapter, Miss Elizabeth A. Clark, of Frankfort, secretary of the conference, made the response in a very pleasing manner. Mr. Dennis V. Snapp, president Kentucky Conference Epworth League, gave a short address on the conference theme, "My Brother."

After the conference session the delegates and visitors went to the home of Mrs. C. K. Oldham, where they were entertained with a reception by the local Epworth League chapter. Mrs. Joe Bogie gave several delightful readings. A most enjoyable time was reported.

At 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the conference convened at the Presbyterian church. The devotional was led by Rev. Geo. D. Prentiss, on the subject "A Selfish Interest in My Brother."

The conference was then divided into two parts for Bible study. The first group studied "The story of the New Testament (Carter) under the leadership of Pres. W. B. Campbell, of Kentucky Wesleyan College. The second group studied "Social Principles of Jesus (Rauschenbusch) under the leadership of Rev. W. V. Cropper, of Shelbyville.

Mission study was also in two groups. First "In Wembo Nvama's Land" (Neave), Dr. W. B. Russell, China. Second "From Survey to Service" (Douglas), Pres. Campbell, in the absence of Prof. Garfield Evans. During the business session reports of different officers were made.

Study of methods in five groups: 1st Department—Rev. Howard Whitaker, Walton.

2nd Department—Rev. J. E. Moss, Nicholasville.

3rd Department—Rev. J. E. Savage, Carrollton.

4th Department—Dr. Russell, instead of Professor Evans.

Junior and Intermediate Work—Miss Celeste McAlister, Nicholasville.

Miss Fannie O'Brien, Kentucky Conference Epworth League Missionary to Jenkins, gave a most interesting account of her kindergarten work.

The women of the Methodist church served a most delicious luncheon at the noon hour to about 175 delegates and visitors.

Professor Garfield Evans was introduced to the conference.

At 7:45 o'clock the conference convened at the Methodist church. Dr. Russell gave an address on "Our Work in China." Rev. J. W. Johnson made a most interesting address on

Elliott Jones Killed In Aeroplane Accident

Lieut. Elliott Jones, formerly of this city, and well known here, was killed in an aeroplane accident which occurred in California yesterday. A message was received here by his sister, Mrs. A. C. Bogie, telling of the unfortunate occurrence, but no further particulars of the accident were given other than that the remains would be brought to Lexington for interment. Lieutenant Jones had been in the aviation service since the beginning of the war.

One of the most desirable residences in the city, will be sold at auction Saturday—The Coppage home on Samuels avenue. CLAYTON HOWELL, Agent and Auctioneer.

ARE YOU RECEIVING YOUR PAPER REGULARLY?

If not, telephone us at once so we can find out why you are not receiving your copy regularly. Unless we receive your complaint we think that your copy is going to you regularly.

During the past week the subscriptions came in so fast that it was impossible to get all new subscriptions on the list Tuesday. However, all subscribers should receive their copies today and if you fail to do so, notify us at once.

In the city we have our own carrier boys and if you fail to receive your paper, telephone No. 74, and we will see that you get a copy.

Absent Voters Barred

Absent voters will not be permitted to vote in the primary, according to an opinion of Attorney General Charles I. Dawson, who hold that the privilege was extended to absent voters for the general election only. The opinion of the attorney general was made verbally, as he has received numerous letters asking if the absent voter law applies to the primary as well as the general election.

Be sure to attend the auction sale of the Coppage residence on Samuels avenue this Saturday at 2 P. M. CLAYTON HOWELL, Agent and Auctioneer.

"Making Faces."

After the service a social hour was enjoyed. Miss Elizabeth Clark, of Frankfort, and Miss Annette Hurst, of Winchester, gave several very entertaining readings. Rev. Savage led a community sing-song.

This afternoon there will be a picnic excursion to the Simms' estate. Cars will leave the church at 3 o'clock. Supper will be served picnic style.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend any of the sessions of the conference.

Mt. Sterling High Base Ball Team, Central-Eastern Kentucky Champs

The above picture represents the Mt. Sterling High School baseball team, champions of Central and Eastern Kentucky, and ready to defend their "unofficial" claim to the State high school championship as the players appeared just after winning the Central Kentucky championship from Cynthiana, June 10. Davis pitched a no-hit game, and Cynthiana's lone tally was made on an error. The score was 10 to 1.

The claim to the State title is based on the dope that the Mt. Sterling team ought to be able to defeat a team that has been defeated by a team that was defeated by the gay lads shown above. Lexington Senior High school defeated Louisville Male High school 8 to 4 and Mt. Sterling won over Lexington Senior High 8 to 1. The Louisville High school declined to give Mt. Sterling a date on their schedule, it is said, hence the claimants of the State title did not meet Louisville Male High, but say they were ready to meet them for a final decision of the State high school honors. The Cup shown in the picture was presented to the team by the Mt. Sterling Chamber of Commerce.

To Study Market Conditions Abroad

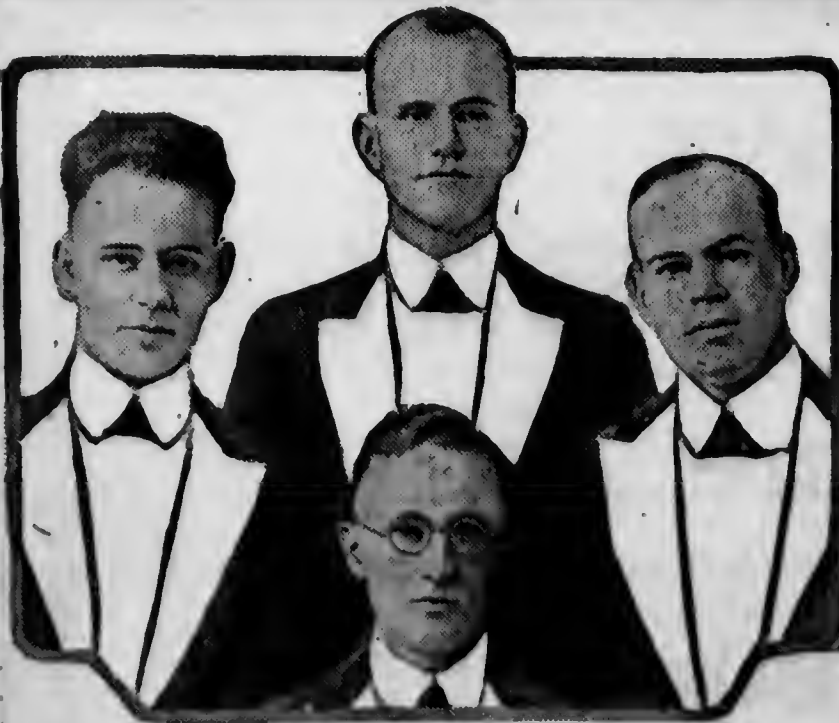

The possibility of introducing into Kentucky some of the details of co-operative marketing as it is practiced in European countries will be studied abroad by Judge Robert W. Bingham, who left Tuesday for New York, from which city he will sail Saturday on the steamer Celtic for a stay of about six weeks in France, Germany, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Other institutions designed to better the financial and social status of the farmer, such as rural credit systems, also will be studied by Judge Bingham before his return.

After he is back in Kentucky he will make a series of addresses throughout the state in the interests of the proposed co-operative marketing association of barley tobacco growers, telling farmers of the Commonwealth what he learned from personal observation of similar associations abroad.

During his absence James C. Stone, Lexington, will act as chairman of the organization committee of the proposed association. Offices of the committee in the Board of Trade Building probably will be closed today and opened in Lexington immediately. Joseph Passonneau, organization manager, left Louisville for Lexington last night to make the necessary preliminary arrangements. —Courier-Journal.

NATIONAL MALE QUARTET.

One of the popular features of the coming Redpath Chautauqua will be a concert by the National Male Quartet. The organization is notable for an unusually harmonious blending of exceptional solo voices, and for rare musical and entertainment ability. Quartet music of the highest type as well as humorous impersonations by Charles Cox, manager of the company, render the program thoroughly delightful.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

IN the "tables" of the seventh grade school boy, 100 cents make one dollar. And in the minds of practically everybody a dollar's equivalent is 100 cents—in money, in values.

The fact of the matter is, however, that in recent years at least nothing has been so fickle as the value of a dollar.

Gauged by the amount of merchandise it would purchase—and that is the real standard of measurement—its value shrunk and shrunk until it reached nearer the relative value of 33 cents than 100 cents.

The causes of the shrinkage were the result of war measures and methods and was as inevitable as the abnormal conditions which war produces.

But that is an old and well-known story. A later and more interesting one is that which tells how, the causes having in large measure been removed, business conditions are rapidly becoming normal and the dollar of the wise shopper is acquiring its full 100 cents face value.

NOTICE, please, it is the wise shoppers who are getting full value for their dollars, and they are doing it by the simple expedient of following the buying suggestions in the advertising columns.

IN the business readjustments, which have been taking place, the merchants and the manufacturers of the country have shown a very sincere desire to do their part, and they have co-operated—are still co-operating—in the most practical way, by making price concessions on all lines of merchandise.

Obviously they have used the advertising columns of the newspapers and the magazines to spread this price news, and those men and those women have profited most who have read advertising most faithfully.

Do you belong to that class? If not, then it is your duty to join it.

WHETHER you spend your own earned dollars or are custodian of your husband's purse, you should read advertising for the sake of the better values it enables you to obtain and the economies it helps you to effect.

If there be any reader of this newspaper who still thinks that a dollar will not do its full 100 cents buying duty, let him turn through the pages of this issue and study thoughtfully the advertised articles in these columns. He will find ample proof that it will.

He can convince himself also that prices are down and that quality is assured.

INDEED, one of the finest of officers of advertising is its guarantee of quality. When a merchant or manufacturer identifies his name with an advertised article of merchandise, you may be sure that it is all that the advertiser claims for it. It is business suicide to misrepresent merchandise.

Upon you—the buyer—therefore, depends the value of your dollar. Spent thoughtlessly and without any knowledge of where it will do its full duty, its purchasing power will then shrink. Spent under the wise direction of advertising, it will bring you in return a full cent's worth of quality merchandise.

Cut Prices Make a Noise Retailers Told

"I would urge the retail fraternity as a whole and hardware dealers as a class to use every effort to bring selling prices down and to make a noise about it. It is only common honesty for you to reduce your prices immediately upon the decline of replacement values. Having done that, come out boldly in the press or otherwise and state your position, what you have done and what you are going to do to keep faith with the public."

In these words C. H. Casey, Jordan, Minn., discussing the question of whether or not hardware retailers are following wholesale price declines, summarized the duty of hardware dealers to themselves and to their customers in an address at the opening session of the twenty-second annual Congress of the National Retail Hardware Association, which opened a three-day meeting in Louisville Monday. About 500 delegates, representing 19,000 dealers in all parts of the United States, are in Louisville for the convention. —Courier-Journal.

Mr. Eventemper received a hot note that made him furious, but here is what he wrote: "Sir—My stenographer, being a lady, cannot transcribe what I think of you. I, being a gentleman, cannot think it. But you, being neither, will understand what I mean."

HOW TO PILE CANNED GOODS

Grocers are quoted in the Merchants Journal as claiming that there is much less spoilage when cases containing canned goods are laid on the sides than when stood in a vertical position. It is asserted that loss from "swells" is thus reduced to only a third of what it used to be. The theory is that when you pile canned goods so that the can is vertical the air will get into some cans and cause the top to bulge. When you lay the cans on the side this is avoided as the side of the can will not bulge.

Idleness is idiocy and honesty and inactivity are strangers.

Farmers Lose Much by Poor Handling of Eggs

Kentucky farmers lost approximately $1,500,000 on eggs last year, which spoiled or were graded below "firsts" when placed on the market, according to poultrymen from the College of Agriculture. Five factors contributed toward the loss. These were: Roosters running in the laying flock, keeping eggs in warm places, damp, dirty nests, leaving eggs in the nest too long and holding eggs at home too long. According to the specialists the losses can be prevented this year if farmers will keep eggs in cool places, provide one good clean nest for every five hens, gather eggs twice daily, market eggs when they are fresh and kill, confine or sell all roosters.

Gathering the eggs twice each day and keeping them in a cool place will prevent many of them from spoiling, according to experiments which show that more than 97 per cent of the eggs which are handled in this way grade as "firsts" when placed on the market. Gathering the eggs twice each day during the hot summer months also will tend to eliminate broken, shrunk and badly flavored eggs. If the eggs are placed in a cave, care should be taken to keep them away from onions or any other object that might cause the eggs to absorb odors. They also should be placed on a table or box to allow free circulation of air about them. Eggs should be taken to market as often as possible as delay in marketing encourages deterioration.

Marketgram

U. S. Bureau of Markets
Hay—Market generally weak. A fair demand at Chicago and Minneapolis. Eastern markets full. Demand and receipts extremely light at Kansas City. Conditions improving at Cincinnati. Very little activity in southern markets. Quoted June 15: No. 1 timothy, New York, $29.50; Cincinnati, $18.25; Chicago, $22; Minneapolis, $19; Atlanta, $27.50; No. 1 alfalfa, Atlanta, $29; Omaha, $18. No. 1 prairie, Kansas City, $12; Minneapolis, $16.50.

Feed—Prices easier, particularly wheat feeds and cottonseed meal, which are quoted $1 to $1.50 lower than a week ago. Demand quiet. Stocks in all sections satisfactory. Little interest is shown in beet pulp but prices considered comparatively high by the trade is well maintained by holders. Cornfeeds and alfalfa meal steady. Movement light. Quoted, bran, $14.50; middlings, $14.50; flour middlings, $19.50; Minneapolis, 36 per cent cottonseed meal, $29.50. Memphis, linseed meal, $29 Minneapolis, white hominy feed, $23. St. Louis, $24.50, Chicago; No. 1 alfalfa meal, $18, Kansas City; beet pulp, $29, New York; gluten feed, $26.50, Chicago.

Dairy Products: Butter markets for the most part have been steady to firm all week. Downward tendency early in week followed by later recovery in all markets, net gain ranging half cent to one and half cent. Temporary let-up because of poor quality of some late arrivals. Quite active into-storage movement continues. Closing prices, 92 score: New York, 33c; Chicago, 32 1/2c; Philadelphia, 33 1/2c; Boston, 34c. Active buying features cheese market especially at country points. Much of buying is of cheese for storing. Quality of current make is running good. Production heavy. Price tendency upward with prices at Wisconsin primary markets averaging: Twins, 13 3/4c; daisies, 14 1/2c; double daisies, 13 1/2c; longhorns, 15c; vogue Americans, 15 1/2c.

Grain: Prices trended upward the first half of week, account excessive rains in southwest, government crop report, black rust reports, and forecast for hot wave over wheat belt. Turn terminated on the 14th, on lack of support induced by weakness in cash market and the absence of foreign demand. News generally bullish on the 16th, but market ruled lower on liquidation of long holdings by houses with Eastern connections. Better milling demand Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis. Country offerings increasing. Harvesting making rapid progress. Importers after corn. In Chicago cash market No. 2 red winter wheat, $1.35; No. 2 hard, $1.42; No. 3 mixed corn, 61c; No. 3 yellow corn, 61c; No. 3 white oats, 36c. For the week Chicago September wheat down 3-4c, at $1.21 5/8; September corn up half cent at 63 1/8c. Chicago July wheat down 1c, at $1.28 1/8; July corn up 1c, at 62 3/4c. Minneapolis July wheat down 2c, at $1.35; Kansas City July 2c, at $1.20 3/8; Winnipeg July 2c, at $1.74 3/4.

Livestock and Meats—Chicago hog prices declined 10c to 15c per 100 pounds, the past week. Beef steers and heifers generally steady. Butcher cows and feeder steers generally 25c lower. Veal calves down 50c to 75c. Lambs steady to 25c lower. Yearlings down 50c; fat ewes 75c per 100 lbs. June 16, Chicago prices: Hogs, bulk of sales, $7.85@8.05; medium and good beef steers, $7.50@8.65; butcher cows and heifers, $4@8.50; feeder steers, $6@7; light and medium weight veal calves, $7.50@9.50; fat lambs, $9@11 75; yearlings, $6@9.50; fat ewes, $2.25@4.25. Stocker and feeder shipments from 11 important markets during the week ending June 10 were: Cattle and calves, 32,680; hogs, 6,763; sheep, 10,938. The trend of Eastern wholesale fresh meat prices was downward. Lambs led with a decline of $3 to 5 per 100 pounds. Beef down 50c to $1; veal weak to $1.00 lower. Light pork loins steady to $1 lower, heavy loins steady to $1.00 higher. June 16 prices, good grade beef: Beef, $14.50@16; veal, $16@18; lambs, $21@25; mutton, $10@15; light pork loins, $10@23; heavy loins, $16@19.

Cotton: Spot cotton declined 65 points the past week, closing around 10.67c per lb. New York July futures down 80 points at 11.69c.

Kentucky Farm Notes From Here and There

More than 50 Graves county farmers have agreed to use nothing but pure-bred sires in their breeding work as a part of the pure-bred sire campaign being conducted in the state, according to a report from County Agent B. H. Mitchell.

Morgan county banks, co-operating with County Agent R. B. Rankin, are planning to assist in furthering junior agricultural club work, all of them having agreed at a recent meeting to lend reliable club members money for one year with which to purchase pure-bred pigs.

S. Y. Hooks, a Crittenden county farmer, has arranged to conduct a demonstration on his 90-acre orchard in co-operation with County Agent John R. Speneer. The demonstration will be used to show farmers in the county proper methods of eating for their trees.

Barren county farmers are planning to sow 800 acres of soybeans during the coming few weeks, according to County Agent J. O. Hornung, who states that the crop has aroused an unusual amount of interest among farmers of that section.

More than 7,000 pure-bred hatching eggs have been distributed among 200 Todd county farmers as a part of the standardization campaign conducted by County Agent I. C. Graddy in co-operation with the farmers. The county is standardizing with White Wyandottes.

Rural women in the vicinity of Mitchellsburg, Boyle county, are planning to organize a community club, according to a report from Miss Mary Miller, field agent in foods, from the College of Agriculture.

Two women's clubs, one at Worth, with a membership of 16, and the other at Brownsboro, with a membership of 10, have been organized by rural women of Oldham county, in co-operation with Catherine T. Taylor, home demonstration agent.

Beautiful Love Plot In "Heart O' the Hills"

If Steve Honeycutt and Widow Hawn had followed the advice of their children, Mary Pickford would not be able to offer such a wonderful picture as "Heart O' the Hills," as adapted from the story by John Fox Jr., which will be shown at the Tabb Theatre, Friday, June 24th.

As Mavis Hawn, Miss Pickford takes the part of a Kentucky mountain girl at war with certain factors which she knows nothing of and determined at least to put an end for all time to come to the whippings which her mother has been liberally inflicting.

A love tale is interwoven in the plot about a mountain feud of long standing and the story affords Miss Pickford ample opportunity to score such triumphs as characterized "Daddy Longlegs," and "The Hoodlum," her previous attractions from

Laying Ration Best For Poultry on Range

Best results in feeding growing poultry stock on the range are obtained by giving the birds a regular laying ration, according to results obtained by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station in trials which it conducted. The ration fed was composed of a grain and mash feed, the mash being made up of 100 pounds of bran, 100 pounds shorts, 100 pounds of corn meal, 100 pounds of ground oats and 100 pounds of tankage or commercial meat scraps. The grain feed was made up of 100 pounds of cracked corn and 200 lbs of wheat.

The mash was kept before the chicks at all times in a self-feeder, thus allowing them to eat whenever they were hungry and saving much time and trouble. The grain was fed on the ground both morning and evening.

When sour milk or buttermilk was available the tankage or meat scraps were left out of the ration and the chicks given all the milk they would drink. The milk was fed in pans, which were thoroughly washed and sealed at least once each week. It was found that 100 pounds of skim milk equalled six pounds of tankage in feeding value.

In addition to the dry mash which was given the birds, oyster shell, grit and coarse ground bone were always available.

The most popular man we ever knew was a big-hearted fellow who always gave everybody the benefit of the doubt.

Silver Dollars Again Being Made By Mint

Coinage of silver dollars has been resumed by the mint after a lapse of seven years and the work of replacing 279,000,000 standard silver dollars taken from the Treasury during the war to sell to Great Britain has been begun.

Since late in March treasury officials said, approximately 20,000,000 silver dollars have been coined. In the same period corresponding amounts of silver certificates were issued and Federal Reserve notes and treasury certificates securing them retired. This process, officials said, would probably continue for the next five years until the treasury's reserve of silver dollars is back to its pre-war basis.

The mint, officials explained, ceased coining silver dollars in 1914, when the supply of metal purchased under the coinage act was exhausted. Further authority to make the dollars was not forthcoming until 1918, when Congress passed the Pittman Act to enable the sale of melted dollars to England for the relief of the silver famine in India.

Under the terms of the act Director of the Mint Baker sold to England 279,000,000 silver dollars, amounting to 208,000,000 ounces of silver, at $1.01 1-2 an ounce, plus the market price of the copper content in the dollar. Because of the price at which the silver was sold to England the government is breaking a little better than even on the transaction, Mr. Baker said.

The inside history of the Pittman Act, sales, treasury officials recalled, was what former Secretary Glass described as one of the "romantic incidents of the war."

In 1918, officials said, Great Britain's Mesopotamia campaign was threatened by the silver famine in India. Silver, India's monetary standard, was hoarded and hidden by natives in the hills. The British government, under war conditions, could not get the metal to keep up its silver reserve. German propaganda, seeking to drive the wedge between India and the Empire and block England's plan in Mesopotamia, was spreading the report that the government could not redeem its paper currency.

The British ambassador laid his country's plight before this government. Director of the Mint Baker suggested that the standard silver dollars lying idle in the Treasury could be used to meet the situation, and the certificate outstanding against them replaced by federal reserve notes. The Pittman Act was passed in six days. Silver began to move from the sub-treasury at once. The first shipments were not even

"Don't worry, Jim—
We'll make it—I've got Lee Puncture-proofs"

THAT'S the big idea. You put Lee Puncture-proof tires on your car and stop worrying—stop worrying about punctures and blow-outs—about delays, frequent tire changes and too-frequent tire purchases.

Lee Puncture-proof tires give greater tire mileage—safer and more satisfactory service than any other pneumatic tires you can buy.

Because Lee Puncture-proof tires are equal in material and manufacture to other standard pneumatics they excel all others in this: that they are puncture-proof. They carry our cash refund guarantee against puncture.

We will equip your car with Lee Puncture-proof tires on this basis.

Three layers of case-hardened steel discs imbedded in pure rubber are built into every Lee Puncture-proof tire.

HARRY J. LOOSE.

Harry J. Loose, who will lecture to Chautauqua patrons here on "Crime—Its Cause, Practice and Prevention," has had a remarkable career as a detective. He served on the famous Pinkerton forces, and made intensive investigations for corrective legislation for the Juvenile Protective Association of Hull House, Chicago.

Later, on an assignment for the Chicago Council Crime Committee, he collected and produced evidence that proved the existence of the "System" in crime.

The Loose lecture is thrilling, constructive and of practical value to every community.

Rosen Rye is Most Popular in State

Rosen rye is the most popular variety among Kentucky farmers growing this crop, according to investigations conducted by Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. Farmers in some counties have grown the variety for three years with the result that nine-tenths of the rye now produced there is of the Rosen variety. This particular variety grows taller, has larger heads, larger seed, and gives more grazing than any other rye grown, according to farmers who reported on the investigation.

Advantages of Rosen rye as a grazing crop are shown by results obtained by William Fathergill, at Easter Day in Carroll county. Mr. Fathergill planted Rosen rye in the center of a corn field last fall, which was planted with native rye around the edges. This spring, after the field had been pastured for some time it was found that the cattle had grazed the Rosen rye to the ground, while the native rye had hardly been touched.

HOW TO HANDLE YOUR COMPETITOR

This subject is well and uncontrovertibly handled by Dr. Frank Crane, a modest but master mind, in the Inland Merchant. We think so much of it that we reproduce it in the Advocate. Dr. Crane says:

"It is a mistake to suppose that you have to fight your competitor. Nothing was ever permanently gained by fighting. For fighting of any kind is pure destruction. Your competitor does not have to be your enemy. He can be your friend. Competition does not kill trade; it builds trade and makes new trade. This is based on the natural law that no one person can suit everybody. No man can get all possible business in any community. His personality attracts some and repels others. Wherever there is a lot of business for one man there is business for somebody else. This is proven by the fact that in any big city business houses in the same line grow together. We find most of the piano houses in one part of the town. Most of the automobile concerns are strung along a certain section of the town. The silk merchants, the hat manufacturers, and so on, each have their district. This proves that in the practical working out of business it pays a man to locate in the neighborhood of his competitors. It is not true that there is just so much business to be had and that a rival cuts your trade in half. As a rule the more tradesmen the more trade. A good lively competitor will increase your business. Two grocers in the same block will do more business than if there were only one, and if the other grocer is good it is a more valuable competitor than a poor one. 'Where the carrion is there the eagles are gathered together.' So runs the proverb, and where no eagles hover there is slim picking. Don't hate your competitor. It sounds bad and it is bad. Be a good sport. Play the game. Keep good natured. Beat your competitor if you can, but remember that the surest way to beat him is to sell better goods, give prompt service and have more courteous working people. Don't fight by cutting prices. Keep your margin of profits fair. If your competitor lies about you, or uses underhanded methods to harm you, don't worry. He is cutting off his nose to spite his face. He cannot fool all the people all the time. Straight business and good nature wins out always, in the long run. Your competitor will do you a great deal of good if you keep your eyes open. He will keep you from slumping. He will make you energetic, careful, more attentive to business, and altogether will be a good tonic for you if you know how to use him. There is business enough for both of you. Go after it! The merchant who would use his influence to keep others out of his city, who would do a like business with him should ply this article."

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN

A man who was afraid of thunder crawled into a hollow log as a place of safety during a thunder storm. The thunder rolled and the rain poured down in torrents and the old log began to swell up until the poor fellow was wedged in so tight that he could not get out. All his past sins began passing before him. Suddenly he remembered he hadn't paid his newspaper subscription, and he felt so small that he was able to back right out.—(La. Center Advocate).

CARD OF THANKS

We employ this means of expressing our gratitude to friends, neighbors and relatives for their many kindnesses shown during the sickness and death of our father, Andrew J. Garrett, who entered on his reward June 6th, after having been sick for more than six months.

Very respectfully,
THE CHILDREN.

QUALIFICATIONS

An advertiser who was looking for a post as companion put in the forefront of his accomplishments: "Good pianist, plays golf, cards, etc." This order of merit sounds like the actor's testimonials: "Mr. So-and-So can play Macbeth, Othello and Billiards. He plays Billiards best."

NOTICE

All persons having claims against the estate of Claude P. Stephens will present them, properly proven, to the undersigned, or W. B. White, his attorney.

(70-31) John Gibbons, Agt. &c.

THE REASON

"What does young Binks mean by sending me one carnation a day, right along?"

"Why, don't you know? He's saying it with flowers, and he stutters."

Bomb Sends U-Boat to Bottom of Atlantic

On Board the U. S. S. Henderson, off Cape Charles, Va., June 21—(By Associated Press).—Within sixteen minutes after the first division of naval seaplanes had attacked the former German submarine U-117 today the submersible was resting on the bottom of the Atlantic, 50 miles from the Virginia Capes. A direct hit with a 163-pound bomb did the work. Only three naval planes had a chance to attack.

The direct hit abruptly terminated the first of a series of experiments by the army and navy to test the ability of naval vessels to withstand damage inflicted from the air.

The bomb that settled the fate of the U-117 was one of a salvo of nine dropped from three planes that constituted the first and only aerial division to engage in the actual work. A few minutes before the fatal salvo was fired the same division had dropped three bombs to get the accurate range.

The projectiles were hurled from a height of about 1,100 feet, while the planes were making more than 100 miles an hour. It was only six minutes after the second salvo was launched that the U-117 made its last "crash dive" to find a resting place fifty fathoms deep.

The sinking in so short a time came as a surprise to most of the army and navy officers who witnessed the experiment, many of whom had been frankly skeptical regarding the ability of the planes to even hit the submarine, regardless of the fact that all the conditions favored the attacking force and no effort was made to simulate real war action. The U-117 was securely anchored and the bombing planes were furnished with charts showing the exact position of the target.

The plans for the first test called for participation of twenty-four naval and marine planes and a later attack by twenty-three army machines if the naval craft failed to sink the submarine. Nearly 200 bombs were provided for the affair, but only twelve were used, and of the forty-seven aircraft scheduled to take part in the bombing, but three obtained a shot at the target, while three more were robbed of their only chance after reaching the scene by the effective work of the first division.

Just after the submarine was sunk Lieutenant Colonel Culver, flying an army plane, crashed down near the Henderson. He and his assistants were rescued by naval boats.

Life offers some men a bed of roses, and send it upon approval, too.

Why Harvey Goes Still Unrebuked

"If Mr. Harvey, Ambassador to the court of St. James, represented in his address at the Pilgrims' dinner the spirit and purposes of America in its entrance into the World War correctly, then we have descended to the vulgar standards of a nation of shopkeepers. I cannot understand why it remains unrebuked by the administration, by the President who promised repeatedly before his election, that the United States would enter some kind of an association of nations."

In these words the Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell, pastor of the First Christian Church, of Louisville, in an address delivered at the weekly luncheon of the Lions Club at the Hotel Henry Watterson, expressed what he termed the views of a non-partisan on Harvey's remarks, of a man "who cares not a fig for political parties, but who cares everything in the world for the ideals of the country."

Dr. Powell said in beginning his talk that he wanted to discuss what was the matter with the country. "There is something the matter," he insisted. "Right now there can be no denial that it is in a discontented, dissatisfied, querulous, complaining, and in a very large way rebellious mood." This mood, he continued, is reflected in the wave of crime that has swept over the United States.

Searching for the causes of this, Doctor Powell gave as the first the reaction from war regulations, from military government and control. Men of the country, he said in illustration, are like a colt that has been kept in the paddock. When he is turned out he wants to kick up his heels.

Didn't Repudiate League

Second of the causes of this mood mentioned was the disillusionment that has come to the country and to business over the end of the war. It was under this head and just after declaring that "we fought, if we fought for anything, for the maintenance and preservation of moral ideals," that Doctor Powell expressed himself in such scathing terms about Harvey.

He also took exception to Harvey's statement that 7,000,000 Americans voted against the League of Nations last fall. The Republican majority was due to a general desire throughout the country for a return to normal industrial and economic conditions, especially in connection with a readjustment of labor conditions, and in no sense was entirely a repudiation of the League of Nations, Doctor Powell insisted.

Too much paternal legislation was the third cause enumerated by Dr. Powell for the country's mood. "Paternal legislation," he declared, "is doing more to destroy initiative and resourcefulness in the United States than any other influence." The best thing that the government of the U. S. and Congress could do for business would be "to let it go," he continued, showing that this excess of paternalism surely is reflected in recklessness. "We don't want the government to put us in a baby carriage and push us through the street," he insisted.

"An excess of moral legislation," was the fourth cause, enumerated by Dr. Powell. "There isn't anything in the field of personal responsibility that isn't sought to be regulated," he declared, "and every once in a while some new reformer jumps up and tries to tell us what we should do."

"If we don't cease trying to make people good by law," he continued, holding that such an effort could be justified only when it was made for the benefit of society in general, "we shall cease to be a republic. We'll have a bureaucracy that will try to regulate women's skirts and men's trousers. We'll go back to the Puritan regime. And I resent it."

Coming more specifically to what is the matter with Louisville, Dr. Powell said that for efficient administration of our criminal courts we had to have good judges, good Commonwealth Attorney and a good Chief of Police. "For judges we've got to have men like Judge Robinson—absolutely unafraid, alive to his responsibilities, faithful to his duties."

Need Determined Man

"We've got to have a Commonwealth's Attorney who means business—that's been our trouble for years. We've got to have one with the light of justice in his eyes and the determination that no criminal shall go unpunished in his heart. And we've got to have a strong, efficient Chief of Police—and I have a great admiration for Colonel Petty. In this city with 200 men chosen under such standards that they must

Salvation Army News

The Salvation Army Home Service campaign has concluded to postpone the Salvation Army-American Legion outing which it had planned to give at the Fair Grounds June 30th, until August 6th. Realizing that conditions are such and with the Fair and other programs arranged the committee deemed it best to postpone the plans for that reason.

It is expected that every organization in the city will appoint a committee to co-operate with the General Committee in making the campaign for funds for the Army a huge success. The General Committee feels that Mt. Sterling wants to go down on record as having done its duty toward the Army. The outing will be composed of all sorts of races, baby show, hashball and other athletic events.

The campaign will remain open until August and those who have not contributed to the campaign can do so by cutting out the following clipping and sending it to the "Traders National Bank."

I hereby subscribe to the Salvation Army Home Service.

Co-operative Plan Gaining Favor

More than 4,500 persons vitally interested in the success of the Burley Tobacco industry, heard Aaron Sapiro last week during his tour of the bluegrass in behalf of the co-operative marketing plan now being offered to the growers.

At places where he spoke a growing sentiment in favor of co-operation was marked, while the active work of signing contracts was launched with great enthusiasm in each county.

Members of the organization committee declare that the prospects for speedy success are excellent.

At Shelbyville, where Mr. Sapiro opened the campaign Monday afternoon, June 13th, more than 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco were signed up for the association in less than an hour. Under the supervisions of B. Thomas, C. L. Walters and other prominent growers of Shelby county, the work of signing up has been carried on vigorously since, and the total number of pounds considerably increased. Mr. Sapiro crowded the courtroom at Lexington, with growers eager to hear his outline of the co-operative plan.

Mr. Sapiro spoke at Richmond on Tuesday afternoon before a very enthusiastic crowd. It had not been intended to attempt to sign contracts at this meeting, but the growers were so insistent that more than 385,000 pounds were pledged in a very few minutes. T. S. Burnam, the local chairman, will be assisted in the work of promoting the organization in Madison county, by Harvey Chenault, Walter Bennett, Harry Hancock, Harry Hanger, Jr., J. J. Neale, William Arbuckle, A. J. Curtis, Paul Burnam and others. A vote on the plan was practically unanimously favorable. Organization is proceeding rapidly in Madison county.

Under the leadership of W. E. Simms a meeting was called in Versailles Tuesday night to hear Mr. Sapiro. No effort was made to obtain signatures to the contract at this meeting on account of the lateness of the hour when the meeting adjourned. Mr. Sapiro was heard with interest by about 600 leading growers of Woodford county. Mr. Simms will perfect a county organization with the assistance of Joseph N. Camden, also member of the organization committee.

Mr. Sapiro went to Cynthiana on Wednesday, where he addressed the most enthusiastic meeting of the season. He was interrupted by repeated and prolonged cheers of approval as he made points in favor of co-operative movements for farmers and growers. J. R. Jones presided at this meeting. No attempt was made to obtain signers for the contract, as this was the first meeting held in Harrison county. But many prominent growers of the section were so eager to sign that they insisted on members of the organization committee ransacking their pockets for copies of the contract. J. Quiney Ward is serving as temporary chairman for that county.

The fifth meeting of the week was held at Maysville, where J. N. Kehoe had largely prepared the way for Mr. Sapiro. More than 670,000 pounds of tobacco were signed up for the association in less than half an hour. County organization is practically complete in Mason county, and no difficulty is expected in reaching the minimum of 75 per cent. Mr. Sapiro went from Maysville to White Sulphur Springs, Va., where he spoke before a meeting of the Virginia State Bankers' Association on the co-operative plan of marketing.

Judge Robert W. Bingham, Louisville, chairman of the organization committee, substituted for Mr. Sapiro at a meeting held at Danville Friday night. More than 250 growers heard him at a meeting in the courthouse. Contracts were distributed, but no effort was made to obtain signatures, at such a late hour. Col. R. G. Evans presided.

Mr. Sapiro wound up his educational tour of Kentucky with a large meeting at Lexington Saturday afternoon in the Woodland Auditorium. It is estimated that about 1,500 persons heard this address. When a vote was called for it was practically unanimous in favor of the proposed plan. Large delegations came to this meeting from Clark, Nicholas, Bourbon, Jessamine, Madison, Scott and Woodford counties. Louis Lee Haggins, owner of one of the largest farms in Fayette county, was the first man to sign the contract. Contracts were distributed but the growers were not asked to sign.

The whole impression of the tour, which was designed to put the message of co-operation before the growers by a master of the subject, was uniformly thought to be distinctly favorable.

It will be followed by a series of smaller meetings in each of the counties where organization has been started. Joseph Passonneau has announced. At the same time organization is being extended into new counties and new states by the organization committee.

Ralph M. Barker, Carrollton, has arranged meetings at Warsaw, Ky., June 25; at Vevay, Ind., July 2; at New Castle, Ky., July 9, and at Bedford, Ky., July 16. Other dates have been requested by Kentucky and Indiana towns, but no definite announcements have been made.

"SUCCESSFUL" RUSE

A murder trial in a small town was drawing to a close. The attorney for the defense had summed up in a stirring address, but as the jury retired he realized that the chance of saving his client's life was small in face of very damaging evidence.

A hurried conference was called, which resulted in arranging for the town hall janitor to "see" his friend the jury foreman during their deliberation and "persuade" the jury by a judicious distribution of cash, to bring in a second-degree verdict.

The jury duly returned and the desired verdict was rendered. As soon as possible the defendant's attorney looked up the janitor to congratulate and reward him.

"Well, John," he said, "you certainly did well. Did you have a hard time swinging them?"

"Hard time? Why, man, I argued for half an hour and spent every cent you gave me—the dam-fools wanted to acquit him!"

If you are puffing when you reach the head of a flight of steps old age is beginning to creep.

WRONG CLASSIFICATION

"Show him up," said the patient editor, and the fuming visitor was conducted into his presence.

"I want an explanation!" cried the visitor, shaking his fist in the editor's face.

"Why, what's the matter?" asked the editor.

"See here!" shouted the visitor, "What do you mean by publishing my resignation from my political office in this way?"

The editor raised his eyebrows in surprise.

"Why, I thought you gave out the story yourself."

"So I did," replied the retiring politician, bursting with rage, "but I didn't tell you to print the news under the head of 'Public Improvements!'"

A REBATE

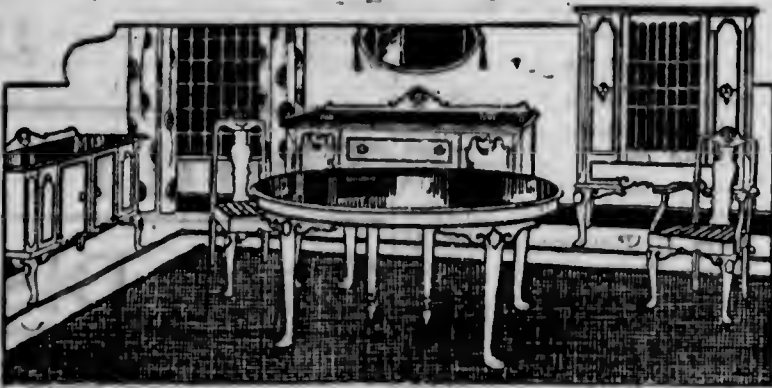

"Did you tell the minister that I did not wish him to kiss me after the ceremony?"

"Yes, my love."

"And what did he say?"

"He said in that case, he would charge only half of the usual fee."

HARMONIOUS FURNISHINGS FOR YOUR HOME

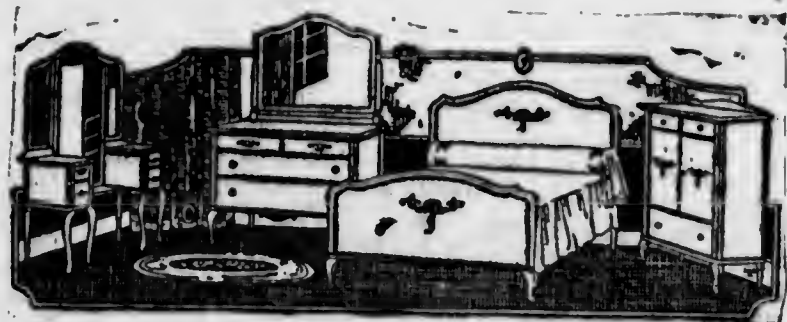

Nothing is more important than the furnishings of this home.

As you doubtless know, we are all more or less dependent on our environment—that's why sick rooms are made as bright and cheery as is possible. The same person will be either irritable or happy, depending upon his surroundings.

Just a word for you—young lady and young gentlemen, who are now entering into a new life—a life where selfishness ends and where everything is held in common.

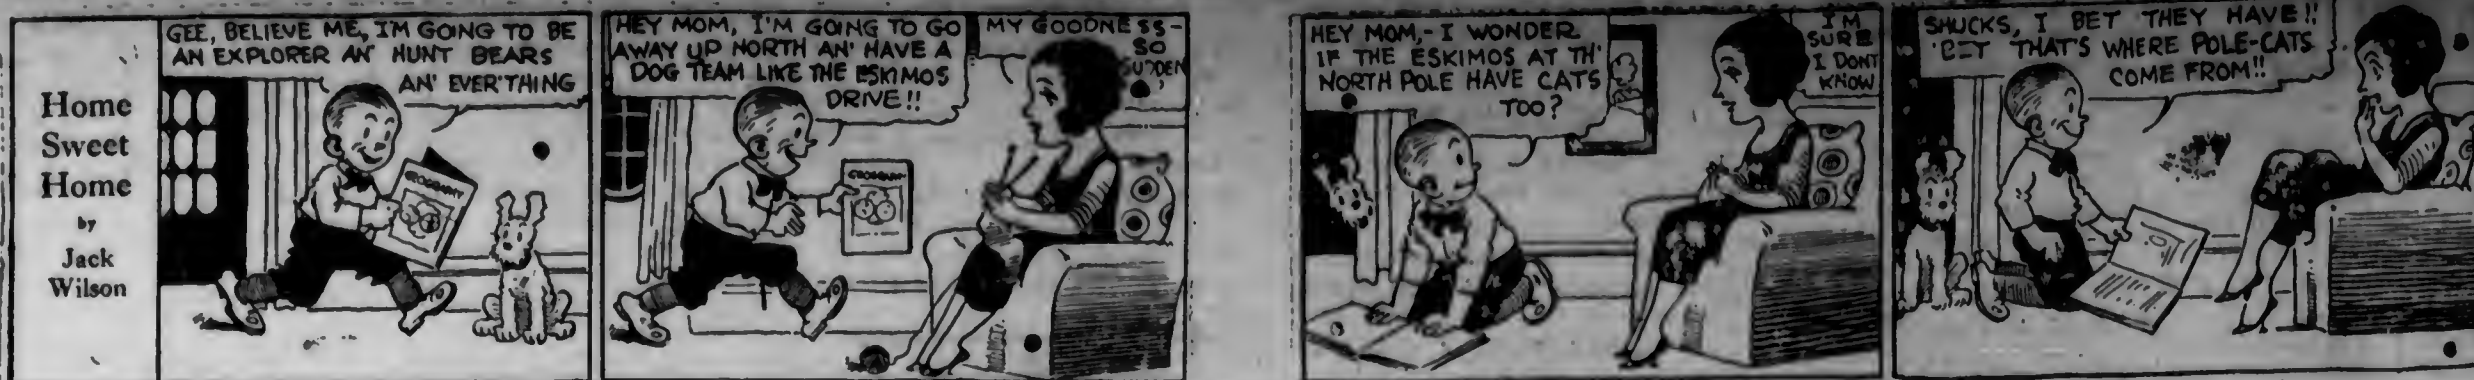

Nowhere is the partnership more pronounced than in the home. It is the first thing of common ownership.

It requires a lot of thought to comfortably and attractively furnish a home at a minimum cash outlay. Look at our Living Room, Bed Room and Dining Room Suites with Rugs and Hangings to harmonize. Then let us, with our years of experience, be of service to you in getting started right.

Mrs. Russell Will be Able to Prosecute

Mrs. Effie Russell, widow of W. Smith Russell, shot and killed by Walter P. Stamp, in Louisville on the night of June 1, has fully recovered from the wounds she received on the same occasion when Stamp also turned his revolver on her and her little daughter. She called at the office of Lorraine Mix, assistant Commonwealth's Attorney, and notified him that she was prepared to testify in the trial of Stamp, set for July 1.

"STICK-TO-IT" CANDIDATES WILL HAVE BIG SHARE IN GREAT PRIZE CAMPAIGN

has overlooked in the past is that on "Votes on Printing." Votes, at the rate of 400 votes on each dollar will be given on printing if asked for at the time payment is made.

As it is seldom that two pieces of printing are alike, it is hardly possible to give the prices on printing without seeing the copy. We will be glad to give the contestants estimates on any piece of printing they secure. By printing, we mean letterheads, envelopes, calling and business cards, billheads, noteheads, sale bills, catalogues, etc. Call on your acquaintances and secure orders for printing and we will give you votes at the time payment is made. Take advantage of this opportunity you have been overlooking. No votes are given on advertising.

While the 50-vote coupons, store votes and votes on printing all help out the total don't forget that it is SUBSCRIPTIONS that BRING THE MOST VOTES. Votes are given free on back subscriptions and renewals as well as on new subscriptions.

Again we ask the contestants to correct name and addresses of the subscribers. And always find out whether they are now taking the paper, so you can mark the receipt slip in the proper way.

If there is any mistake in the count of any contestant's votes up to the present date, it must be called to the attention of the Campaign Manager before 10 A. M. Tuesday. Otherwise, the standings as published today, must be accepted as correct.

35,400 votes given free on a new five-year subscription. Half as many on an old five-year renewal.

Subscriptions changed from one member of the family to another are not considered "NEW" and votes will be issued as on any old subscription. Remember, the big 200,000 vote offer is in force only until 6 P. M., July 14th. Get as many subscriptions as you can before that date.

Three Contestants Tie in Race Today

Day by day the big race grows more interesting and as it is about to start on the home stretch, first one candidate and then another gains the lead so that it is impossible to tell who will be the winners. Some of those who are down on the list in one issue seem to be playing possum, for you often see them in the lead in the next count.

In today's issue three candidates are coming down the stretch neck-and-neck, each with a grand total of 85,980. Quite a number of the others are running so close to the leaders that there is only a matter of a few thousand votes between them. It's a fact that you don't have to go to Latonia to see a pretty race—you will find it right here in your home town if you follow the candidates' race in the Advocate's big Prize Campaign.

Many changes will be noted in the list since last Tuesday. Miss Mary Belle Fugate, of Wades Mill, jumps from 11th place in the first district to that of leader in her district. Today, Miss Stella Wilson, of Camargo; Miss Eleanor Bowen and Mrs. Albert Botts share the honor of being leaders of the entire race. Miss Linnie Hoskins, who held eighth place in District No. 2 Tuesday, now goes to fourth place, while Miss Dorothy Vaughn, who was in twelfth place Tuesday, takes fifth place in her district.

While you are watching the big race move merrily along and you are hoping and wishing that your favorite will win the big prize, just remember it takes votes to win and it is subscriptions that bring the most votes. So put your wishes into action by sending in your subscription or renewal at once, for your favorite needs your subscription to win.

BOY SERIOUSLY HURT

Cecil Servert, aged 11 years, was running a pony while driving cattle for Floyd Day, of Clark county, near the home of George R. Snyder, on the Winchester pike, Tuesday afternoon, when the pony threw him to the pike. His head was badly cut and bruised and it was at first thought that he was killed, but he revived and the wounds were dressed by physicians from this city. The boy was later taken to his home in Clay City by Mr. Day in an automobile.
